

AAFDA CONFERENCE 2023“Anyway, listening isn't enough” ***

A conference to help raise the status of victims of domestic abuse and bereaved families.

15th & 16th March 2023 - DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel, Swindon, SN5 8UZ

Wednesday 15th March 2023, 5.00pm – 9.30pm.

Please join us for a pre-conference lecture where Professor Neil Websdale, the leading expert on Domestic Homicide Reviews, will present findings from his new book in the making, "Gray Mist Killing: Fatal Family Violence and the Dementias". Followed by an evening meal providing an opportunity to network with peers within the industry and family members bereaved by fatal domestic abuse.

Thursday 16th March 2023, 8.30am – 4.30pm.

Hosted by our CEO, Frank Mullane, the day's programme will comprise of families bereaved by fatal domestic abuse, speaking of their huge efforts to obtain justice throughout the day, and speakers from government and agencies working to end domestic abuse, including:

- Nicole Jacobs; Domestic Abuse Commissioner for England and Wales
- Sarah Dine MP; Minister for Safeguarding (invited)
- Sophie London, APCC Joint Victims Lead, and Deputy Mayor for London
- Jess Phillips MP; Shadow Minister for Domestic Violence and Safeguarding
- Professor Bianca Harper; Arizona State University
- Several prominent academics leading a 'Spotlight on emerging research' session
- More to be confirmed.

Tickets on sale now!

To book for the Pre-Conference Lecture and meal on the evening of 15th March and the full Conference on 16th March 2023:

Cost: £295 per person

Includes refreshments on arrival, evening meal, Pre-Conference Lecture, all day conference with refreshments and lunch. Hotel accommodation is not included.

To book for the Conference only on 16th March 2023:

Cost: £240 per person

 Includes all day conference with refreshments and lunch.

CLICK HERE TO BOOK YOUR TICKETS!